First Discussion of Universal Military Training Today Meets
With Opposition

(By United Press.)

Washington, April 7.—War plans rapidly took form today. First negotiations for co-operation between the United States and the allies were opened by Counselor Polk with the British ambassador. Later Polk went to the navy department, probably to convey some naval ideas given him.

The extension of a credit to the allies of more than one billion dollars and probably as much as five or six billion, will be the first step of actual participation in the war under the plans suggested to congress by the president, it was learned today. Administration leaders predicted the credits would be made available immediately.

It is now settled that a large part of the $3,500,000,000 already asked for by the administration will be raised by a bond issue. The remainder will be raised by taxes.

It is understood the credit of this country is to be extended to England and France by this country selling bonds and taking with the proceeds thus raised the bonds of the entente powers.

Probability that the federal trade commission will be designated to fix prices on foodstuff and all kinds of war supplies, developed today following the announcement that the commission had placed its services at the disposal of the National Council of Defense.

The war department issued orders during away with civilian training camps. They will be replaced by training camps for reserve officers.

Secretary of War Baker asked the house military affairs committee this afternoon to insert in the general staff army bill a new provision for a conscription of a technically trained army for use and engineers and signal men and the like.

Baker insisted that means should be used to raise the army of 500,000 men provided for.

The volunteer system, he said, would not work.

In the first discussion of universal military training, the principle met with decided opposition in the senate committee on military affairs when it met today.

Two members are vigorously opposed to any kind of compulsory training.

The attorney general has ordered the arrest of sixty alleged ringleaders in German plots and conspiracies in the United States. Every one is a German citizen and is known to have taken part in intrigues.

The men have been divided into three classes: Those who have been convicted of violation of American neutrality in furthering German plots of various sorts and are at liberty under bond, awaiting the action of higher courts; those who have been indicted by federal grand juries for similar offenses and are at liberty under bond waiting trial, and persons neither indicted nor convicted, but whose activities have been under long surveillance by the secret service or the department's Bureau of Investigation.

For the first time in more than a century, arrests of alien enemies under the attorney general's order will be made without reference to the courts or obtaining warrants. The President is empowered to adopt this course in time of war under an act of Congress passed in 1798 and not invoked since the war with Great Britain in 1812.

The department has under strict surveillance thousands of German reservists resident in the United States who are suspected of having been connected with plots already brought to light, with plots abandoned before perfection, or who have been active in German propaganda or, because of their accentuated leanings toward the German government, are regarded as likely to work against the interests of the United States during the war.

How many German reservists are residents of the United States, a high official said, has never been determined accurately and is largely a matter of conjecture. This official's belief was that the number ranged between 150,000 and 200,000. The great majority, it was said, are men in middle life or beyond or men who have been in this country for so many years their sympathies in the struggle are considered as having been virtually transplanted to the United States.

There is, however, it is said, an army of between 150,000 and 180,000 of young German reservists in this country in the prime of life, who have been here so short a time, not more than three to five years, that they may be properly regarded as potential sources of trouble. Upon this army the secret service and the Bureau of Investigation have concentrated much of their energy.

For obvious reasons the Department of Justice withheld the names of persons ordered apprehended today, but it was said that very nearly all of them could be classed as quasi-officials of the German government. Many of them, it is alleged, were the instrumentalities through which Capt. Boy-ed and VonPapen carried out their activities in this country against the allies. A few of the number, it was said, could properly be classed as spies.

The department is prepared to contest to the highest court any effort made to obtain the liberation under bond or by habeas corpus proceedings of the men ordered arrested. The manner in which the arrests were ordered, without reference to the courts, is a purely war-time step unauthorized in time of peace and there are but two precedents on the statute books to guide legal authorities in the fight in the courts which is expected to follow.

These precedents concern one man, Charles Lockington, a British subject residing in Philadelphia at the outbreak of the war of 1812. In conformity with President Madison's proclamation requiring all alien enemies living within forty miles of tidewater to report their presence to the nearest United States marshal, Lockington reported to the marshal at Philadelphia and was removed to Reading, where he was given limited liberty under parole. Later he was found at large in Philadelphia. He appealed to the Pennsylvania courts to restore his liberty.

His case came up in the Pennsylvania court and later before Justice Washington of the United States Supreme Court. Sitting as a Federal court judge Justice Washington sustained the President's action under the statute of 1798 in an opinion in which he said:

"The power of the President under the first section of the law to establish by his proclamation or other public acts, rules and regulations for apprehending, restraining, securing and removing alien enemies, under the circumstances, stated in the section, appears to me to be as unlimited as the Legislature could make it."

Woman Offers Services in War

Mrs. A. L. Stewart Follows Example of Husband and is Willing to Serve as Telegrapher

HE MAY BECOME ENGINEER

Since Senator James E. Watson has given out in Washington information that Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Stewart and son Simeon have all volunteered to serve the government since war has been declared, Mrs. Stewart was persuaded today to make public the letter which she wrote Senator Watson:

When it first became known that the young men of the country would likely go to war, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart were resigned to give up their son. Mr. Stewart decided that he, too, should go and he wrote the Council of National Defense, offering his services as a civil engineer. Mrs. Stewart determined that she could serve her country also and wrote the following to Senator Watson:

Dear Mr. Watson:—Lon shall go if accepted. I feel as though I might be as useful to my country in my capacity as he is in his. Consequently I have written Daniel Willard, chairman of the transportation and communication committee, Council of National Defense, offering my services because of my ability and experience as a telegrapher.

I was not a bit backward, either, in telling him of a few other ways in which I might render service in this crisis.

I want to go with the first and stay until the last Prussian has his due—what can you do for me?

Yours truly,

CORA M. STEWART

A parade, in which every fraternal order has been asked to participate, Civil war veterans, men, women and children will form on the public square at seven o'clock Monday night and head for the meeting place.

The Elks and Knights of Columbus lodges have promised to march in a body in the parade and the word has been passed out to other fraternal organizations and it is believed that a great street demonstration will be made. Delegations have been promised from Carthage, Continued on Page 6.

Protects Jobs Enlisted Men

R. L. Tompkins Announces no Employe of Furniture Co., or Pinnell-Tompkins Co., Will Suffer

WANTS NO MAN TO HESITATE

The war spirit has hit Rushville employers and today Robert L. Tompkins, president of the Rushville Furniture Company and head of the Pennell-Tompkins company, announced that any of the men working in these two institutions would have their jobs protected in case they desire to give their services to their country. Similar declarations from other employers are expected since actual war exists with Germany.

"It is the patriotic duty of every man, who can, to enlist," said Mr. Tompkins today. "It certainly seems to me that any one would rather voluntarily offer their services than be drafted, as I understand is the intention if sufficient men are not secured by the volunteer system. Any one in the employ of the Rushville Furniture Company or the Pennell-Tompkins Lumber Company who enlists, especially in the local company forming here, will, if the company is called out be protected in his job. We do not want any man who will serve his country to stand back on that account."

The spirit shown by Mr. Tompkins is expected to materially aid in the forming of the local company. Many young men have held back because they feared to enlist and stand a chance of losing their positions. Mr. Tompkins guarantees that any of his men who join the company and the company is called to the colors will not lose his position.

CITY IS READY TO BEAR ITS BURDEN

Many Ideas Being Advanced for Vacant Lot Gardening This Summer as Part of Move

PLAN A MODEL TRUCK PATCH

Suggested Business Men Care for One Down Town—Banks Ready to Co-Operate With Farmers

Many ideas were being advanced today to develop all the vacant lots in Rushville as a means of combating the high cost of living, that is bound to go higher, and the food shortage which is sure to come since the country is at war with Germany.

The sentiment in the city is that it should do its share along with the farmers who are meeting in the court house this afternoon, as a part of a state-wide movement, started by Governor Goodrich, to increase the state's crop yield and place farming on a more intensive basis.

It is realized that the city is just as much responsible for its share of the burden as the country and that there is much land inside the corporate limits which may be utilized to increase the food supply for next fall and winter.

It was authoritatively stated today that the banks of the city stood ready to co-operate in every way to help the movement along in both the county and the city. It was announced that the banks have discussed a plan whereby all farmers wishing credit to make an effort for larger crops this year should consult with the banks at once and every effort will be made to accommodate them within reasonable limits. It was also said that the banks had under consideration a scheme for a farm labor employment bureau where all men wishing farm employment could apply and all farmers wishing labor could seek those out of work.

Business men this morning had under discussion the producing of a model garden in the business district as an example for the whole community, the business men themselves to tend it. Some suggested that the garden be put in where the hitchrack now stands back of the O. P. C. H. store. It is very probable that this scheme will be worked out in the near future. Some farmers estimated this morning that a couple of loads of potatoes could be raised on that small piece of ground. The idea was advanced that schedule could be arranged for business men to "work" the garden and that not more than an hour a month for each business man would be required. Professional men, it is advocated, should be included as well.

There is talk of interesting the Boy Scouts in vacant lot gardening as a means of raising some funds which they desire. Every effort will be made to find employment for every school boy this summer in some sort of truck gardening.

There is also a movement on foot to put out gardens for men who are employed in factories and who have not the time for preparing a garden but could find time in the evenings to tend one. It has also been suggested by two or three men that a fund might be raised for the purpose of purchasing the necessary seeds and equipment, because there are many who want a garden but cannot afford one.

FARMERS HOLD A WAR COUNCIL HERE

Two Hundred Gather in Court House and Discuss Means to Co-Operate in Present Crisis

RESOLUTIONS ARE ADOPTED

Call on Farmers to Produce as Much
Food as Possible and Cultivate
Waste Places

Intensive farming, such as making use of back yards and gardens, co-operation among the farmers, not on a dollar and cents basis, but as a matter of patriotism was advocated at the meeting of Rush county farmers held in the court house assembly room this afternoon pursuant to the call of Governor Goodrich.

Resolutions calling on the farmers to produce as much food as possible during the year and to cultivate all waste places in the county, to produce more hogs, cattle and sheep, were passed at the meeting and an organization perfected to see that this county does its full share towards the government in the war with Germany.

It was truly a war council and some 200 farmers and other citizens interested attended. The meeting was the result of a meeting held in Indianapolis Thursday when the subject was discussed by the governor and a call sent out to every county in the state urging a meeting for this afternoon when plans should be discussed for better and bigger crops the coming year.

At the meeting this afternoon it was impressed on the audience that there is a food shortage in the country and with this country at war with Germany it was the duty of the farmers to see that their government was given as large a food supply this year as possible.

H. J. Reed, of Purdue University delivered the main address at the meeting. W. R. Jinnett, Judge Sparks, A. L. Gary and W. M. Alexander also spoke. Mr. Reed pointed out that it was hard to realize that the country was at war and harder to realize the demands the government would make on the farmers. Last year he pointed out Rush county raised 80,000 acres of corn. He stated that the idea is to get the farmers to co-operate among themselves to get the best results from the soil, better crops and larger acreage. With 80,000 acres of corn, it was estimated that the average yield here was 50 bushels. It was pointed out that if this were increased to 75 or 100 bushels to the acre, it would not only mean money to the farmer but an increased food supply.

He urged that there be no loafing acres as the soldiers and army of this country and of the allies must be fed and the burden fell upon the United States. Elimination of hog cholera, larger wheat and corn crops and more potatoes were urged. The labor problem, it was pointed out by Mr. Reed, will no doubt be serious, but by co-operating the farmers should get along. He urged them to lay aside their petty differences and get together. "There should be no lost motion," he declared. "When one farmer gets caught up with his work and he sees his neighbor is behind, go over and help him out. Put the question on a basis of duty and service to your country."

The resolutions urge all boys and men in the county, not in military service to assist with the crops.

Retailing Made Profitable

The simplest kind of knowledge of the rules and practices of retailing should tell you, Mr. Retailer, that the more simplified you can keep your stock, the more likely you are to find your profit at the end of the year in the bank instead of wrapped up in a lot of odds and ends of merchandise.

Concentrate on the kind of things that people want and demand the merchandise advertised by national distributors in reliable newspapers.

Quick sales, simplified stock-keeping, less capital invested, merchandise constantly fresh and desirable—these will spell success for you.

A LITTLE ADVICE TO MEN

MEN WHO ARE GETTING OLD BEFORE THEY ARE HALF WAY THROUGH LIFE SHOULD READ THIS AND TAKE HEED.

There is a serious ailment that affects men. Man should be at his best when forty, but many, through carelessness, fast eating, fast living and little thought of the consequences, are old and worn out at that age. They eat, but get no benefit; they sleep, but get no rest; they work, but get nothing done.

This ailment is easily and quickly overcome. Thousands upon thousands are being benefited through a systematic treatment, which, once started, brings back that which means so much to man who enjoys eating, who enjoys work, who enjoys everything that makes for happiness.

This systematic treatment restores energy, vitality and strength. It takes man back to youthful vigor; it makes him 100 per cent efficient and makes life a happy occasion.

Pepsinco is the name of this treatment. Pepsinco digests perfectly all that is eaten. Once you take care of the food as it enters the stomach, you will be on the way to proper body condition. Pepsinco prevents sour stomach, indigestion, bloating, sick headache, biliousness and all troubles due to a faulty digestion.

Don't wait till your condition is beyond hope—don't wait till it is chronic. Start this treatment now—today. In a few days you will realize the value of the proper digestion of food. Any druggist will let you have a small amount of this wonderful aid to digestion, and once you start using Pepsinco all stomach worries will cease, and youthful vigor will take the place of premature old age.

"THE STAR-SPANGLED BANNER" By Francis Scott Key

Oh, say can you see, by the dawn's early light
What so proudly we hail'd at the twilight's last gleaming,
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, thro' the perilous light
O'er the ramparts we watch'd were so gallantly streaming?
And the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof thro' the night that our flag was still there,
Oh, say, does that star-spangled banner yet wave,

On the shore dimly seen thro' the mists of the deep,
Where the foe's haughty host in dread silent reposes,
What is that which the breeze, o'er the towering steep
As it fitfully blows, half conceals, half discloses?
Now it catches the gleam of the morning's first beam,
In full glory reflected now shines on the stream:
'Tis the star-spangled banner; oh, long may it wave—
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

And where is that band who so vauntingly swore,
That the havoc of war and the battle's confusion,
A home and a country should leave us no more?
Their blood has wash'd out their foul footsteps' pollution
No refuge could save the hireling and slave
From the terror of flight or the gloom of the grave:
And the star-spangled banner in triumph doth wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

Oh, thus be it ever when freemen shall stand
Between their loved homes and wild war's desolation;
Blest with vict'ry and peace, may the heav'n-rescued land
Praise the Pow'r that hath made and preserved us a nation!
Then conquer we must, when our cause it is just,
And this be our motto: "In God is our trust!"
And the star-spangled banner in triumph shall wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

"AMERICA"

My country! 'tis of thee, sweet land of liberty, of thee I sing:
Land where my fathers died! Land of the pilgrim's pride!
From ev'ry mountain side, let freedom ring!

My native country, thee, land of the noble, free, thy name I love;
I love thy rocks and rills, thy woods and templed hills!
My heart with rapture thrills like that above.

Let music swell the breeze, and ring from all the trees, sweet
freedom's song;
Let mortal tongues awake; let all that breathe partake;
Let rocks their silence break, the sound prolong.

Our father's God! to Thee, Author of Liberty, to Thee we sing;
Long may our land be bright with freedom's holy light;
Protect us by Thy might, Great God, our King.

WARNS AGAINST PLANTING PINES

State Entomologist Advise That
Blister Rust is Costing Large Sums in Many States.

INDIANA FREE FROM DISEASE

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., April 7.—Do not plant White Pine trees in Indiana, is the advice of the state entomologist's office. The pine blister rust is costing many states immense sums of money and congress has appropriated $300,000 to be used in making investigations to determine the extent of the infected areas. The separate states will pay the costs of fighting the disease within its borders and probably more than a million dollars will be spent this year in special appropriations.

"Indiana is free from this disease and no one should run the risk by bringing white pine trees or currants or gooseberry bushes to the state, of starting it. Currant and gooseberry bushes are known carriers of the disease" states a recent pamphlet issued by the entomologists' office.

"Easter states which have the disease are advising against planting of white pine trees and eastern nurseries would like to find some place to unload their surplus stock. Do not permit them to unload it on you and thus menace Indiana."

SUNDAY READY FOR DRIVE ON BROADWAY

Door of Tabernacle, Which Cost
$30,000 Will be Thrown Open
Tomorrow.

WILL NOT TONE HIS SLANG

New York, April 7.—Billy Sunday's $30,000 tabernacle will throw wide its doors on Broadway here tomorrow afternoon and Billy himself will call the Great White Way's sinners to repent.

Sunday has denied that he will tone down his slang for New York. He will "go after the devil among the white lights hammer and tongs." He will "pull old satan's tail up and down the tenderloin district" until he howls for mercy; and then he will show him no mercy.

New York is curious about Sunday. If his 20,000 capacity tabernacle could hold two dozen times that number it is ten chances to one it will be jammed to the doors at the opening meeting Easter Sunday.

There will be 4,000 singers in the Sunday chorus with which the evangelist works upon the feelings of his audiences so adroitly.

The Sundays and their staff of 20 are living in a 22 room private residence at Riverside Drive and 182nd Street, just a minute motor from the tabernacle at Broadway and 109th street.

Time to be Cautious.

The Columbus Republican makes some timely remarks about the dangers of being over-zealous. While there is no doubt but that German espionage is one of the things the American people have to combat, it is well to be cautious. While your neighbor may have a German name, that is not cause to doubt for one minute his loyalty to this country. Too frequently ugly rumors start from some innocent remark that ruin the reputation of a man and his family.

The right is more precious than peace, and we shall fight for the things which we have always carried nearest to our hearts.

—President Wilson.

Continuing in this same vein, the Columbus republican says there is too much loose talk flying around Columbus about alleged disloyalty. What is true of Columbus is true in a measure in every town in the United States. People have naturally become suspicious. But there is no reason to believe that any man in Rushville of German birth or German descendants is not loyal to this government. Nothing is more unjust than to accuse him of treason to the United States when there is no basis for the charge. We should all be most careful and cautious about our words and deeds at this time.

America at War.

The United States has at last put itself on the side of the allies as a protest not only against the German affronts against our government, but also as a protest against German ruthlessness in general, German disregard for life and German violation of international law and the freedom of the seas. The United States went to war for equally as good a cause as when the United States "Goes to War"

There was no place for the United States but opposed to Germany after she had manifested her utter disrespect for all the traditions of a civilized world. To be true to her own self and the position which she holds among the nations of the world, the United States could do nothing but align herself against the enemy of all that is good and wholesome in the twentieth century civilization.

Historians tell us that soldiers were once paid in salt. They certainly had no trouble in eating down their salaries.

Russia has demonstrated the fact that the guillotine is not the only instrument that can remove a crowned head.

Things are beginning to happen on other parts of the old ball now, and if your Uncle Carranza doesn't get a better press agent he will soon be in total eclipse.

"Buying a pig in a poke" has lost all element of risk. No chance to lose now.

European rulers are beginning to wonder if it is catching.

GERMANS ARE SCARCE.

Bismark, N. D., April 7.—Not a German name appears in the list of petitioners for naturalization papers who will be heard at the approaching term of the district court of Burleigh county in May. There is a large German population in this part of the state.

CENSORSHIP BOARD MADE UP OF WOMEN

Governor Has Retained One Member of the Old Board and Appointed Two More.

CHAIRMAN GETS $1,800 YEAR

Topeka, Kan., April 7.—The new Kansas film censorship board is made up entirely of women. In the personnell of the new board Governor Capper has retained but one member of the old board, Miss Carrie Simpson of Paola, and added two new members. They are Mrs. J. W. Miller of Council Grove, and Mrs. E. L. Short of Kansas City, Kas. Of the 100 requests for appointments less than a dozen were from men.

According to gossip in Topeka, the administration of the board is to be anything but smooth if the censorship follows the line of the old board.

The new censorship law, besides raising the salary of the chairman to $1,800 and the other two members to $1,500, permits the film companies to make appeals to the courts instead of the old appeal board composed of the governor, the attorney general, and the secretary of state.

Shall We Go It Alone Or Join the Democracy of Europe In Fighting Germany?

Shall we send an over-seas army to join the Entente Allies? Is it best for our Navy to cooperate in destroying German submarines? Will unlimited financial assistance to the Allies prove most effective? Or, shall we wage war with Germany independently of her other antagonists?

On these questions editorial opinion throughout the United States is sharply, tho far from evenly, divided, most of our press seeing in the European war a conflict of principles, a struggle between absolutism and democracy, declaring that the United States should cast its lot with the Allies on the firing line of democracy. The "go-it-alone" side of the argument is concisely stated by the Leavenworth Times: "This is an affair of our own with Germany. To be sure, the fact that Germany is having trouble with us probably will be of material assistance to the Entente Allies, but in their fight with Germany we still are neutral."

Perspective the Only Key to Perfect Understanding

There is an old proverb to the effect that the onlooker sees most of the game. The player's conception of it as a whole, that is as removed from his individual effort or experience, is bound to be blurred and clouded by the dust and noise of the struggle. The observer notes the movements of all the players, grasps the massed combinations, and surveys the ebb and flow of the contest with cool understanding. The reader of THE LITERARY DIGEST has the benefit of such observation. He has summarized for him weekly an impartial review of what is being thought, said, and done on all sides of the great questions that are absorbing the interest of the world, and he gets the inestimable advantage of perspective. THE DIGEST takes no sides, keeps out of the struggle of politics, social disputes, trade rivalries, and the rest, and records all viewpoints. Begin reading it at once if you really wish to understand the great game of life as it is being played to-day.

Breaking Down The Barrier!

UNTIL now, the car of superlative smoothness in performance, elegance, style, and richness in finish has been the exclusive privilege of the very rich.

With the coming of the new Oldsmobile, Model 45, the man of average means has access to the same pride of ownership, the same consciousness of utmost enjoyment, that formerly was attainable only by the possessors of great fortunes.

In the Model 45, he is enabled to boast a car that in point of smoothness, ability in performance, style, and refinement of finish is the peer of the world's most luxurious motor cars.

The car is built in four body styles at prices astonishingly low,—$1367 for the seven-passenger, and $1295 for the five-passenger, club roadster and convertible roadster models, f. o. b. Lansing.

The seven-passenger is now on display at our showroom. Call or write today for a demonstration.

PICKS GIANTS AND WHITE SOX

Baseball Writer Predicts That These Two Teams Will Fight it Out Next Fall.

DOPE MAY NOT HOLD

Rowland Has Harder Row Than McGraw But he Has Material and May Pull Through.

BY H. C. HAMILTON.
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

New York, April 7.—Unless all dope fails; unless fate kicks a hole in arithmetic; unless something just as bad happens, the world's series next fall should be a lurid, intestine struggle between the Chicago White Sox and the New York Giants. The fight will be on next Wednesday.

Bringing it down to a final, gnat's-fur calculation it must be admitted that, in spite of the record of the Boston Braves, Yale football team, Dave Fultz, and that other David, the grand old dope usually sticks out all over the result in the long run. It is the arithmetical solution of a problem that stands up for all time. The young man who attempts to pick 'em backward usually falls down on the job.

Hence it is the intention to record the reasons why the New York Giants and the Chicago White Sox should fight it out for the long and short ends of a baseball service next fall.

Some one said not so long ago that temperament is due to break or make the Giants. It was pointed out that, with Benny Kauff, Heinie Zimmerman, Davey Robertson, Charley Heroz and one or two others, a first-class opera troupe in thinkings could be conscripted out of the Giants' ranks. It was declared that it all depended upon how the base-hits lined up and how the hair was rubbed.

That may be true. Certain it is that no one ever had the good fortune to get along with Heinie Zimmerman for very long. However, John McGraw has been subduing dispositions for a long time, and his successes with Benny Kauff in ironing the kinks out of that young man will bear more than passing scrutiny.

The Giants will line up with Holke on first base, Herzog at second, Fletcher at shortstop, and Zimmerman at third. In the outfield will be George Burns, Benny Kauff and Robertson. Behind the plate McGraw has arrayed Raridon, McCarthy and Gibson. Pitchers will be Schupp, Tesheau, Sallee, Anderson, Porritt, Smith and others with reputations. Honus Lobert and a recruit or so will take care of utility duty, while Jim Thorpe and Red Murray both probably will be retained for outer garden extra work.

There's a lineup that presents one of the most startling rows of swatters ever gathered together under one management in the National league. McCarthy, Kauff, Halke, Robertson, Zimmerman, Fletcher, and Herzog are powerful swatters and of the consistent kind. To back this up, the National league's premier southpaw will inhabit the rubber pitching slab.

Temperament, viewed from this angle, will have little to do with it. It is difficult to see how such an array of talent could run into a slump depressing enough to take away the punch.

As for the White Sox—it's a longer road. Clarence Rowland has had his chance with virtually the same lineup that he started with this year, and no world's series has graced the Comiskey table since Rowland took charge.

Rowland has a great pitching staff provided he can get going, Red Faber should be ready for another fine season; Jim Scot is doing an effective comeback; Eddy Cicotte is due for lots of good days; Joe Benz hasn't been sick this winter and Red Russell is having luck with his left wing. Mel Wolfgang is a hearty heaver and Williams will help him out.

Rowland can line up Happy Felsch, Joe Jackson and John Collins, a slugging trio, as proof of outfield strength, with Jacques Fourme for pinch duty. Eddie Seismographs.

The seismograph is an instrument devised to register the nervous shock suffered by Mother Earth.

It is so extremely sensitive that it can sit in Washington and quiver from the impact of an earthquake in Honolulu. Lead pencils are attached to its arms and legs so that their agitation is registered in permanent form which may be used as evidence against the earthquake if it denies it happened.

Whenever a seismograph begins to shiver and shake you can depend on it Mother Earth is having a spasm somewhere in her anatomy.

Babies have spasms too, but they don't need a seismograph to let you know it. Not even at midnight. Or three a. m.

Jump from Bed in Morning and Drink Hot Water

Tells why everyone should drink hot water each morning before breakfast.

Why is man and woman, half the time, feeling nervous, despondent, worried; some days headachy, dull and unstrung; some days really incapacitated by illness.

If we all would practice inside-bathing, what a gratifying change would take place. Instead of thousands of half-sick, anaemic-looking souls with pasty, muddy complexions we should see crowds of happy, healthy, rosy-cheeked people everywhere. The reason is that the human system does not rid itself each day of all the waste which it accumulates under our present mode of living. For every ounce of food and drink taken into the system nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out, else it ferments and forms ptomaine-like poisons which are absorbed into the blood.

Just as necessary as it is to clean the ashes from the furnace each day, before the fire will burn bright and hot, so we must each morning clear the inside organs of the previous day's accumulation of indigestible waste and body toxins. Men and women, whether sick or well, are advised to drink each morning, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of washing out of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the indigestible material, waste, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Millions of people who had their turn at constipation, bilious attacks, acid stomach, nervous days and sleepless nights have become real cranks about the morning inside-bath. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will not cost much at the drug store, but is sufficient to demonstrate to anyone, its cleansing, sweetening and freshening effect upon the system.

Get a tube today; read the folder about this disease, and its symptoms and start the Senreco treatment tonight. 25c at your druggists. For sample Senreco, stamps or coin, to The Santel Remedies Co., Cincinnati, Ohio.

VEGETABLE CALOMEL

Vegetable calomel, extract of the root of the old-fashioned may-apple plant, does not salivate. It's a perfect stimulant, it's great. As a liver substitute for ordinary calomel (mercury); in fact, it's better, because its action is gentle instead of severe and irritating—and it leaves no mean, disagreeable after-effects. Physicians recognize this and prescribe may-apple root (podoophyllin, they call it) daily.

Combined with four other standard, all-vegetable remedies, may-apple root may now be had at most any druggist's in convenient sugar-coated tablet form by asking for Santel Laxatives. If you forget the name, ask for the box that has the picture of the soldier on it.

These tablets are small, easy to take and are really wonderful little performers. They quickly clean out the poisons that are causing you head-ache, constipation, sour stomach, biliousness, dizzy spells, bad breath and coated tongue.

They are mild. They never gripe. And they are a bowel tonic as well as a cleanser and liver regulator. A 10c box should last one several weeks. A Physician's trial package (4 doses) will be mailed you free if you write mentioning this advertisement. The Santel Remedies Co., 802 Madison Ave., Covington, Ky.

FLORA JACKSON IS GRANTED A DIVORCE

Case of Lillian Gruell Against Lincoln Gruell is Taken Under Advisement by Court

OTHER SUITS DISPOSED OF

This was divorce day in circuit court. Judge Sparks heard two of this class of cases, the first being that of Lillian Gruell against Lincoln Gruell and the other was that of Flora Jackson against Lorenzo Jackson. The Gruell case was taken under advisement and a divorce was granted Mrs. Jackson upon payment of the costs. Mrs. Gruell alleged cruel and inhuman treatment and in the testimony it was brought out that she lived with Gruell but three days.

The case of Ephraim Kroot against the Connecticut Fire Insurance Co., sent to this county on a change of venue was dismissed and the costs paid.

The case of William A. Alexander against the Cincinnati, Indianapolis and Western railway, demanding damages in the sum of $65 was dismissed and the costs paid.

The case of W. H. Holliday and company against Samuel and Willard Colter, on an account, was also dismissed and the costs paid.

CITY STANDS READY TO BEAR ITS BURDENS

Glenwood, New Salem, Milroy and other towns of the county.

Men, women and children are urged to take part in the parade and each has been asked to carry an American flag and show their loyalty. The Odd Fellows band has donated its services to the demonstration and the Arlington band is considering such a move. Definite word from the Arlington band was expected late today. With two bands, hundreds of marchers and with American flags flying everywhere the parade should be a great sight.

Practically every city in the state has had a patriotic demonstration and there is no reason to believe that Rushville's patriotism is on the wane.

It is expected that the parade will move by seven-thirty o'clock and the line of march will be northward in Main street to Seventh street and then east to the auditorium. A program of patriotic songs will precede the main address of the evening to be delivered by M. E. Foley, a gifted orator of Indianapolis. Judge Sparks will preside at the meeting. The hall is being profusely decorated with American flags.

Still another idea is advanced that a labor bureau be opened in a vacant room with someone there all the time to keep a record of all men wanting employment and of all farmers wanting help.

"The man who stays at home and raises every bit of foodstuffs that he possibly can is doing his share in fighting Germany" said one business man this morning. "Those of us who are not called upon to go to war and have responsibilities which keep us at home should realize that it is our patriotic duty to help all we possibly can in the movement to develop every bit of vacant land in Rushville. We owe it to our country and should bear the burdens that have come to use honorably, conscientiously and in good spirit."

COMING BACK

United Doctors Specialist Will Again Be At
Rushville, Indiana
Windsor Hotel
Tuesday, April 17,
ONE DAY ONLY

HOURS 9:00 A. M. to 6 P. M.
Remarkable Success of Talented Physician in the Treatment of Chronic Diseases.

Offer Services Free of Charge

The United Doctors Specialist, licensed by the State of Indiana, for the treatment of all diseases, including deformities, nervous and chronic diseases of men, women and children, offer to all men who call on this trip, consultation, examination, advice free, making no charge whatever, except the actual cost of treatment. All that is asked in return for these valuable services is that every person treated will state the result obtained to their friends and thus prove to the sick and afflicted in every city and locality, that at last treatments have been discovered that are reasonably sure and certain in their effect.

The United Doctors are experts in the treatment of chronic diseases and so great and wonderful have been their results that in many cases it is hard to find the dividing line between skill and miracle.

Diseases of the stomach, intestines, liver, blood, skin, nerves, heart, spleen, rheumatism, sciatica, tapeworm, leg ulcers, weak lungs and those afflicted with long-standing, deep seated, chronic diseases, that have baffled the skill of the family physician, should not fail to call. Deafness often has been cured in sixty days.

According to their system no more operation for appendicitis, gall stones, tumors, goiter, piles, etc., as all cases accepted will be treated without operation or hypodermic injection, as they were among the first in America to earn the name of "Bloodless Surgeons," by doing away with the knife with blood and with all pain in the successful treatment of these dangerous diseases.

No matter what your ailment may be, no matter what others may have told you, no matter what experience you may have had with other physicians, it will be to your advantage to see them at once. Have it forever settled in your mind. If your case is incurable they will give you such advice as may relieve and stay the disease. Do not put off this duty you owe yourself or friends or relatives who are suffering because of your sickness, as a visit at this time may help you.

Worn-out and run-down men or women, no matter what your ailment may be, call, it costs you nothing.

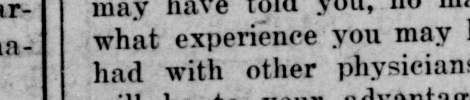

Remember, this free offer is for this visit only.

Married ladies come with their husbands and minors with their parents.

Laboratories, Milwaukee, Wis.

OVER HALF HUNDRED KNIGHTS FROM HERE

Degree Staff From Ivy Lodge Gives Amplified First Degree at Connersville After Work

IS GOING TO LIBERTY NEXT

Over fifty members of the local Knights of Pythias lodge went to Connersville last night where the degree team gave the amplified first degree, presenting the play "Damon and Pythias" at the Auditorium before a crowded house. The Rushville party made the trip to Connersville on a special car over the I. & C. traction line leaving here at seven o'clock.

The Rushville team did not confer the degree on any candidates but presented the play following the work in the lodge room. The audience was very appreciative. Following the presentation of the play the Connersville lodge served refreshments at the lodge room. The Rushville lodge will go to Liberty two weeks from last night to present the work for the lodge there.

RICHMOND BOY WINS CONTEST

Julius Peitz Will Represent District In State Discussion League Meeting at Bloomington

HANCOCK COUNTY SECOND

Thomas of Fortville First Declared Winner but Mistake in Ranking is Discovered

Julius Peitz of the Richmond high school won the Discussion League contest here last night and by virtue of the victory will represent the sixth congressional district in the state contest of the league at Bloomington.

Eugene Thomas of Fortville, representing Hancock county, was first declared winner through an error in taking off the scoring of the judges and most of the crowd left with the belief that the Fortville boy had won. However, the Richmond high school faculty coach, who was here with Peitz, when he saw the ranking of the judges, saw the mistake at once and the Wayne county representative was declared the winner. Thomas of Fortville was second.

The other speakers finished in the following order: James Briggs of Shelbyville, representing Shelby county, third; Bernie Epstein of Newcastle, representing Henry county, fourth; Miss Mildred Smith, Carthage, representing Rush county, fifth.

When the rank was first tabulated, it was found that Thomas, Peitz and Briggs all tied for first place and the other two speakers were also tied. A. L. Gary, one of the judges, then saw a mistake on his score sheet in marking the rank and made the change. In the meantime, Prof. Masters, believing the percentages would be necessary to determine the victor, was figuring them up. He went ahead and announced the decision based on percentage, which showed Thomas first and Peitz second, when in reality when the mistake in Mr. Gray's sheet had been rectified, the standing should have been determined by rank.

The other judges were Judge Will M. Sparks and John A. Tittsworth.

The topic for discussion was: "Resolved that the United States should adopt a system of compulsory military training similar in essentials to the Swiss plan." The speakers had the privilege of choosing either side of the question. All took the affirmative except the Henry county representative. Each speaker was allowed eight minutes on the principal speech and three minutes rebuttal.

Briggs of Shelbyville, the first speaker, made three points in favor of the adoption of a compulsory military system as follows: first, that the United States is defying its own constitution by not adopting compulsory military training; second, the United States should adopt such a system because it would give greater protection at less expense; third, compulsory military training has always paid and will pay. He said that the private soldier in the United States cost five times as much as the Swiss private and that an army of sixteen million men could be raised under a system similar to the Swiss plan.

Epstein of Newcastle attempted to show that the Swiss plan was not adaptable to the needs of the United States. His chief point was that the Swiss train a soldier in three months, whereas that was not long enough time to train a soldier in this country. He pointed out that Switzerland needed compulsory military training because she is small and is surrounded by the most powerful nations of Europe. He declared the same need did not exist here. He asserted army officials had approved a plan for a regular army of 500,000 men and 500,000 reserves.

Miss Smith of Carthage pointed to the many advantages of the Swiss system and how it could be adapted to use in the United States. She declared that it trains men for defense but not aggression. Miss Smith then revealed the defects in our present regular army-volunteer plan, under which we have only 48,000 regulars.

Thomas of Fortville declared that the United States system of raising an army had been a failure ever since the formation of the republic. He pointed out that the revolution was won by the timely arrival of the French navy; that an army of 512,000 untrained men was humiliated by a trained force of 17,000 in the war of 1812 and that the rebellion could have been crushed if the government had had a trained army.

Some of the values of the Swiss system were, he said, that all the young men, by the army training, acquired good health and respect for their country. He declared that because of its vast population, the United States could make invasion practically impossible by the adoption of the compulsory military training.

The main point advanced by Peitz of Richmond was the distinction between compulsory military training and compulsory military service. He showed that the Swiss plan called for compulsory service only in time of war and compulsory training in time of peace to prepare for war. He said this was the difference between the Swiss and German systems. He cited that in 1872 and in the present war the German government went through another country than Switzerland to attack France because Switzerland was prepared. He also declared that the volunteer system in the United States was not democratic. The compulsory plan, he declared, recognizes the responsibility of every man to defend those things which are universally and equally enjoyed by all.

OFFERS MOTHERLESS BOYS

President of Club Gives Their Services to Country.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., April 7.—In a letter forwarded to President Wilson today, Mrs. Emma Ferguson Ellis of this city offered the services of the Motherless Boys of the Navy club to their country. The club was formed to "adopt" motherless sailors as sons, send loving letters to them and to encourage them in their work.

Branches of the club were formed in eastern cities and at the first national meeting, Mrs. Ellis was elected president. The club is now corresponding to about 300 boys in the navy.

First Discussion of Universal Military Training Today Meets With Opposition

(By United Press.)

Washington, April 7.—War plans rapidly took form today. First negotiations for co-operation between the United States and the allies were opened by Counselor Polk with the British ambassador. Later Polk went to the navy department, probably to convey some naval ideas given him.

The extension of a credit to the allies of more than one billion dollars and probably as much as five or six billion, will be the first step of actual participation in the war under the plans suggested to congress by the president, it was learned today. Administration leaders predicted the credits would be made available immediately.

It is now settled that a large part of the $3,500,000,000 already asked for by the administration will be raised by a bond issue. The remainder will be raised by taxes.

It is understood the credit of this country is to be extended to England and France by this country selling bonds and taking with the proceeds thus raised the bonds of the entente powers.

Probability that the federal trade commission will be designated to fix prices on foodstuffs and all kinds of war supplies, developed today following the announcement that the commission had placed its services at the disposal of the National Council of Defense.

The war department issued orders doing away with civilian training camps. They will be replaced by training camps for reserve officers.

Secretary of War Baker asked the house military affairs committee this afternoon to insert in the general staff army bill a new provision for a conscription of a technically trained army for use and engineers and signal men and the like.

Baker insisted that means should be used to raise the army of 500,000 men provided for.

The volunteer system, he said, would not work. In the first discussion of universal military training, the principle met with decided opposition in the senate committee on military affairs when it met today.

Two members are vigorously opposed to any kind of compulsory training.

The attorney general has ordered the arrest of sixty alleged ringleaders in German plots and conspiracies in the United States. Every one is a German citizen and is known to have taken part in intrigues.

The men have been divided into three classes: Those who have been convicted of violation of American neutrality in furthering German plots of various sorts and are at liberty under bond, awaiting the action of higher courts; those who have been indicted by federal grand juries for similar offenses and are at liberty under bond waiting trial, and persons neither indicted nor convicted, but whose activities have been under long surveillance by the secret service or the department's Bureau of Investigation.

For the first time in more than a century, arrests of alien enemies under the attorney general's order will be made without reference to the courts or obtaining warrants. The President is empowered to adopt this course in time of war under an act of Congress passed in 1798 and not invoked since the war with Great Britain in 1812.

The department has under strict surveillance thousands of German reservists resident in the United States who are suspected of having been connected with plots already brought to light, with plots abandoned before perfection, or who have been active in German propaganda, or because of their accentuated leanings toward the German government, are regarded as likely to work against the interests of the United States during the war.

How many German reservists are residents of the United States, a high official said, has never been determined accurately and is largely a matter of conjecture. This official's belief was that the number ranged between 150,000 and 200,000. The great majority, it was said, are men in middle life or beyond or men who have been in this country for so many years their sympathies in the struggle are considered as having been virtually transplanted to the United States.

There is, however, it is said, an army of between 150,000 and 180,000 of young German reservists in this country in the prime of life, who have been here so short a time, not more than three to five years, that they may be properly regarded as potential sources of trouble. Upon this army the secret service and the Bureau of Investigation have concentrated much of their energy.

For obvious reasons the Department of Justice withheld the names of persons ordered apprehended today, but it was said that very nearly all of them could be classed as quasi-officials of the German government. Many of them, it is alleged, were the instrumentalities through which Capt. Boyed and Von Papen carried out their activities in this country against the allies. A few of the number, it was said, could properly be classed as spies.

contest to the highest court any effort made to obtain the liberation under bond or by habeas corpus proceedings of the men ordered arrested. The manner in which the arrests were ordered, without reference to the courts, is a purely war-time step unauthorized in time of peace and there are but two precedents on the statute books to guide legal authorities in the fight in the courts which is expected to follow.

These precedents concern one man, Charles Lockington, a British subject residing in Philadelphia at the outbreak of the war of 1812. In conformity with President Madison's proclamation requiring all alien enemies living within forty miles of tidewater to report their presence to the nearest United States marshal, Lockington reported to the marshal at Philadelphia and was removed to Reading, where he was given limited liberty under parole. Later he was found at large in Philadelphia. He appealed to the Pennsylvania courts to restore his liberty.

His case came up in the Pennsylvania court and later before Justice Washington of the United States Supreme Court. Sitting as a Federal court judge Justice Washington sustained the President's action under the statute of 1798 in an opinion in which he said:

"The power of the President under the first section of the law to establish by his proclamation or other public acts, rules and regulations for apprehending, restraining, securing and removing alien enemies, under the circumstances, stated in the section, appears to me to be as unlimited as the Legislature could make it."

Woman Offers Services in War

Mrs. A. L. Stewart Follows Example of Husband and is Willing to Serve as Telegrapher

HE MAY BECOME ENGINEER

Since Senator James E. Watson has given out in Washington information that Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Stewart and son Simeon have all volunteered to serve the government since war has been declared, Mrs. Stewart was persuaded today to make public the letter which she wrote Senator Watson:

When it first became known that the young men of the country would likely go to war, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart were resigned to give up their son, Mr. Stewart decided that he, too, should go and he wrote the Council of National Defense, offering his services as a civil engineer. Mrs. Stewart determined that she could serve her country also and wrote the following to Senator Watson:

Dear Mr. Watson—Lon shall go if accepted. I feel as though I might be as useful to my country in my capacity as he is in his. Consequently I have written Daniel Willard, chairman of the transportation and communication committee, Council of National Defense, offering my services because of my ability and experience as a telegrapher.

I was not a bit backward, either, in telling him of a few other ways in which I might render service in this crisis.

I want to go with the first and stay until the last Prussian has his due—what can you do for me?

STREET PARADE TO PRECEDE MEETING

Fraternal Orders Expected to March in Body and Every Man, Woman and Child Also

FORMS ON PUBLIC SQUARE

Marchers Will Carry Flags and Two Bands Will Lead Procession—A Patriotic Program

The words to "The Star Spangled Banner" and "America" are printed on page 4 of today's issue and should be clipped out for use Monday night.

A great demonstration is planned for Monday night in connection with the patriotic meeting scheduled for the Graham Annex auditorium. A parade, in which every fraternal order has been asked to participate, Civil war veterans, men, women and children will form on the public square at seven o'clock Monday night and head for the meeting place.

The Elks and Knights of Columbus lodges have promised to march in a body in the parade and the word has been passed out to other fraternal organizations and it is believed that a great street demonstration will be made. Delegations have been promised from Carthage, Continued on Page 6.

Protects Jobs Enlisted Men

R. L. Tompkins Announces no Employee of Furniture Co., or Pinnell-Tompkins Co., Will Suffer

WANTS NO MAN TO HESITATE

The war spirit has hit Rushville employers and today Robert L. Tompkins, president of the Rushville Furniture Company and head of the Pinnell-Tompkins company, announced that any of the men working in these two institutions would have their jobs protected in case they desire to give their services to their country. Similar declarations from other employers are expected, since actual war exists with Germany.

"It is the patriotic duty of every man, who can, to enlist," said Mr. Tompkins today. "It certainly seems to me that any one would rather voluntarily offer their services than be drafted, as I understand is the intention if sufficient men are not secured by the volunteer system. Any one in the employ of the Rushville Furniture Company or the Pinnell-Tompkins Lumber Company who enlists, especially in the local company forming here, will, if the company is called out be protected in his job. We do not want any man who will serve his country to stand back on that account."

The spirit shown by Mr. Tompkins is expected to materially aid in the forming of the local company. Many young men have held back because they feared to enlist and stand a chance of losing their positions. Mr. Tompkins guarantees that any of his men who join the company and the company is called to the colors will not lose his position.

CITY IS READY TO BEAR ITS BURDEN

Many Ideas Being Advanced for Vacant Lot Gardening This Summer as Part of Move

PLAN A MODEL TRUCK PATCH

Suggested Business Men Care for One Down Town—Banks Ready to Co-Operate With Farmers

Many ideas were being advanced today to develop all the vacant lots in Rushville as a means of combating the high cost of living, that is bound to go higher, and the food shortage which is sure to come since the country is at war with Germany. The sentiment in the city is that it should do its share along with the farmers who are meeting in the court house this afternoon, as a part of a state-wide movement, started by Governor Goodrich, to increase the state's crop yield and place farming on a more intensive basis.

It is realized that the city is just as much responsible for its share of the burden as the country and that there is much land inside the corporate limits which may be utilized to increase the food supply for next fall and winter.

It was authoritatively stated today that the banks of the city stood ready to co-operate in every way to help the movement along in both the county and the city. It was announced that the banks have discussed a plan whereby all farmers wishing credit to make an effort for larger crops this year should consult with the banks at once and every effort will be made to accommodate them within reasonable limits. It was also said that the banks had under consideration a scheme for a farm labor employment bureau where all men wishing farm employment could apply and all farmers wishing labor could seek those out of work.

Business men this morning had under discussion the producing of a model garden in the business district as an example for the whole community, the business men themselves to tend it. Some suggested that the garden be put in where the hitchrack now stands back of the O. P. C. H. store. It is very probable that this scheme will be worked out in the near future. Some farmers estimated this morning that a couple of loads of potatoes could be raised on that small piece of ground. The idea was advanced that schedule could be arranged for business men to "work" the garden and that not more than an hour a month for each business man would be required. Professional men, it is advocated, should be included as well.

There is talk of interesting the Boy Scouts in vacant lot gardening as a means of raising some funds which they desire. Every effort will be made to find employment for every school boy this summer in some sort of truck gardening.

There is also a movement on foot to put out gardens for men who are employed in factories and who have not the time for preparing a garden but could find time in the evenings to tend one. It has also been suggested by two or three men that a fund might be raised for the purpose of purchasing the necessary seeds and equipment because there are many who would like to garden but are unable to do so.

FARMERS HOLD A WAR COUNCIL HERE

Two Hundred Gather in Court House and Discuss Means to Co-Operate in Present Crisis

RESOLUTIONS ARE ADOPTED

Call on Farmers to Produce as Much Food as Possible and Cultivate Waste Places

Intensive farming, such as making use of back yards and gardens, co-operation among the farmers, not on a dollar and cents basis, but as a matter of patriotism was advocated at the meeting of Rush county farmers held in the court house assembly room this afternoon pursuant to the call of Governor Goodrich.

Resolutions calling on the farmers to produce as much food as possible during the year and to cultivate all waste places in the county, to produce more hogs, cattle and sheep, were passed at the meeting and an organization perfected to see that this county does its full share towards the government in the war with Germany.

It was truly a war council and some 200 farmers and other citizens interested attended. The meeting was the result of a meeting held in Indianapolis Thursday when the subject was discussed by the governor and a call sent out to every county in the state urging a meeting for this afternoon when plans should be discussed for better and bigger crops the coming year.

At the meeting this afternoon it was impressed on the audience that there is a food shortage in the country and with this country at war with Germany it was the duty of the farmers to see that their government was given as large a food supply this year as possible.

H. J. Reed, of Purdue University delivered the main address at the meeting. W. R. Jinnett, Judge Sparks, A. L. Gary and W. M. Alexander also spoke. Mr. Reed pointed out that it was hard to realize that the country was at war and harder to realize the demands the government would make on the farmers. Last year he pointed out Rush county raised 80,000 acres of corn. He stated that the idea is to get the farmers to co-operate among themselves to get the best results from the soil, better crops and larger acreage. With 80,000 acres of corn, it was estimated that the average yield here was 50 bushels. It was pointed out that if this were increased to 75 or 100 bushels to the acre, it would not only mean money to the farmer but an increased food supply.

He urged that there be no loafing acres as the soldiers and army of this country and of the allies must be fed and the burden fell upon the United States. Elimination of hop, cholera, larger wheat and corn crops and more potatoes were urged. The labor problem, it was pointed out by Mr. Reed, will no doubt be serious but by co-operating the farmers should get along. He urged them to lay aside their petty differences and get together. There should be no lost motion, he declared. When one farmer gets caught up with his work and he sees his neighbor is behind, go over and help him out. On the question of a basis of duty and service to your country.

These resolutions were all approved and the county not only made

Retailing Made Profitable

The simplest kind of knowledge of the rules and practices of retailing should tell you, Mr. Retailer, that the more simplified you can keep your stock, the more likely you are to find your profit at the end of the year in the bank instead of wrapped up in a lot of odds and ends of merchandise. Concentrate on the kind of things that people want and demand the merchandise advertised by national distributors in reliable newspapers. Quick sales, simplified stock-keeping, less capital invested, merchandise constantly fresh and desirable—these will spell success for you.

TRY THIS TO BANISH ALL RHEUMATIC PAINS

People who have been tormented for years—yes, even so crippled that they were unable to help themselves—have been brought back to robust health through the mighty power of Rheuma. Rheuma acts with speed; it brings in a few days the relief you have prayed for. It antagonizes the poisons that cause agony and pain in the joints and muscles and quickly the torturing soreness completely disappears. It is a harmless remedy, but sure and certain, because it is one discovery that has forced rheumatism and sciatica to yield and disappear. If you want relief, swift, gratifying relief, get a 50-cent bottle of Rheuma from any druggist, and take one-half teaspoonful once a day. Genuine Rheuma, with guarantee of a cure or money refunded, is sold by JOHNSON'S DRUG STORE.

A LITTLE ADVICE TO MEN

MEN WHO ARE GETTING OLD BEFORE THEY ARE HALF WAY THROUGH LIFE SHOULD READ THIS AND TAKE HEED.

There is a serious ailment that affects men. Man should be at his best when forty, but many, through carelessness, fast eating, fast living and little thought of the consequences, are old and worn out at that age. They eat, but get no benefit; they sleep, but get no rest; they work, but get nothing done.

This ailment is easily and quickly overcome. Thousands upon thousands are being benefited through a systematic treatment, which, once started, brings back that which means so much to man who enjoys eating, who enjoys work, who enjoys everything that makes for happiness.

This systematic treatment restores energy, vitality and strength. It takes man back to youthful vigor; it makes him 100 per cent efficient and makes life a happy occasion.

Pepsinco is the name of this treatment. Pepsinco digests perfectly all that is eaten. Once you take care of the food as it enters the stomach, you will be on the way to proper body condition. Pepsinco prevents sour stomach, indigestion, bloating, sick headache, biliousness and all troubles due to a faulty digestion.

Don't wait till your condition is beyond hope—don't wait till it is chronic. Start this treatment now—today. In a few days you will realize the value of the proper digestion of food. Any druggist will let you have a small amount of this wonderful aid to digestion, and once you start using Pepsinco all stomach worries will cease, and your general health will take the place of the old one.

"THE STAR-SPANGLED BANNER"

By Francis Scott Key

I
Oh, say can you see, by the dawn's early light
What so proudly we hail'd at the twilight's last gleaming,
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, thro' the perilous light
O'er the ramparts we watch'd were so gallantly streaming?
And the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof thro' the night that our flag was still there,
Oh, say, does that star-spangled banner yet wave,

II.
On the shore dimly seen thro' the mists of the deep,
Where the foe's haughty host in dread silent reposes,
What is that which the breeze, o'er the towering steep,
As it fitfully blows, half conceals, half discloses?
Now it catches the gleam of the morning's first beam,
In full glory reflected now shines on the stream:
'Tis the star-spangled banner; oh, long may it wave—
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

III.
And where is that band who so vauntingly swore,
That the havoc of war and the battle's confusion,
A home and a country should leave us no more?
Their blood has wash'd out their foul footsteps' pollution
No refuge could save the hireling and slave
From the terror of flight or the gloom of the grave:
And the star-spangled banner in triumph doth wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

IV.
Oh, thus be it ever when freemen shall stand
Between their loved homes and wild war's desolation;
Blest with vict'ry and peace, may the heav'n rescued land
Praise the Pow'r that hath made and preserved us a nation!
Then conquer we must, when our cause it is just,
And this be our motto: "In God is our trust!"
And the star-spangled banner in triumph shall wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

"AMERICA"

I.
My country! 'tis of thee, sweet land of liberty, of thee I sing:
Land where my fathers died! Land of the pilgrim's pride!
From every mountain side, let freedom ring!

II.
My native country, thee, land of the noble, free, thy name I love;
I love thy rocks and rills, thy woods and templed hills!
My heart with rapture thrills like that above.

III.
Let music swell the breeze, and ring from all the trees, sweet
freedom's song;
Let mortal tongues awake; let all that breathe partake;
Let rocks their silence break, the sound prolong.

IV.
Our father's God! to Thee, Author of Liberty, to Thee we sing;
Long may our land be bright with freedom's holy light;
Protect us by Thy might, Great God, our King.

WARNS AGAINST PLANTING PINES

State Entomologist Advise That Blister Rust is Costing Large Sums in Many States.

INDIANA FREE FROM DISEASE

(By United Press.)
Indianapolis, Ind., April 7.—Do not plant White Pine trees in Indiana, is the advice of the state entomologist's office. The pine blister rust is costing many states immense sums of money and congress has appropriated $300,000 to be used in making investigations to determine the extent of the infected areas. The separate states will pay the costs of fighting the disease within its borders and probably more than a million dollars will be spent this year in special appropriations.

"Indiana is free from this disease and no one should run the risk by bringing white pine trees or currants or gooseberry bushes to the state, or starting it. Currant and gooseberry bushes are known carriers of the disease" states a recent pamphlet issued by the entomologist's office.

"Eastern states which have the disease are advising against planting of white pine trees and eastern nurseries would like to find some place to unload their surplus stock. Do not permit them to unload at you and thus infect your state."

SUNDAY READY FOR DRIVE ON BROADWAY

Door of Tabernacle, Which Cost $30,000 Will be Thrown Open Tomorrow.

WILL NOT TONE HIS SLANG

New York, April 7.—Billy Sunday's $30,000 tabernacle will throw wide its doors on Broadway here tomorrow afternoon and Billy himself will call the Great White Way's sinners to repent.

Sunday has denied that he will tone down his slang for New York. He will "go after the devil among the white lights hammer and tongs." He will "pull old satan's tail up and down the tenderloin district" until he howls for mercy; and then he will show him no mercy.

New York is curious about Sunday. If his 20,000 capacity tabernacle could hold two dozen times that number it is ten chances to one it will be jammed to the doors at the opening meeting Easter Sunday.

There will be 4,000 singers in the Sunday chorus with which the evangelist works upon the feelings of the audiences so adroitly.

The Sundays and their staff of 50 are living in a 22-room private residence at Riverside Drive and 162nd Street, just a minute's motor ride from the tabernacle at Broadway and 42nd Street.

Time to be Cautious.

The Columbus Republican makes some timely remarks about the dangers of being over-zealous. While there is no doubt but that German espionage is one of the things the American people have to combat, it is well to be cautious. While your neighbor may have a German name, that is not cause to doubt for one minute his loyalty to this country. Too frequently ugly rumors start from some innocent remark that ruin the reputation of a man and his family.

The right is more precious than peace, and we shall fight for the things which we have always carried nearest to our hearts.
—President Wilson

Continuing in this same vein, the Columbus republican says there is too much loose talk flying around Columbus about alleged disloyalty. What is true of Columbus is true in a measure in every town in the United States. People have naturally become suspicious. But there is no reason to believe that any man in Rushville of German birth or German descendants is not loyal to this government. Nothing is more unjust than to accuse him of treason to the United States when there is no basis for the charge. We should all be most careful and cautious about our words and deeds at this time.

America at War.

The United States has at last put itself on the side of the allies as a protest not only against the German affronts against our government, but also as a protest against German ruthlessness in general, German disregard for life and German violation of international law and the freedom of the seas. The United States went to war for equally as good a cause as when there was no place for the United States, but opposed to Germany after she had manifested her utter disrespect for all the traditions of a civilized world. To be true to her own self and the position which she holds among the nations of the world, the United States could do nothing but ally herself against the enemy of all that is good and wholesome in the twentieth century civilization.

Historians tell us that soldiers were once paid in salt. They certainly had no trouble in salting down their salaries.

Russia has demonstrated the fact that the spilling of blood is not the only argument that can remove a crowned head.

Things are beginning to happen on other parts of the old ball now, and if your Uncle Carranza doesn't get a better press agent he will soon be in total eclipse.

CENSORSHIP BOARD MADE UP OF WOMEN

Governor Has Retained One Member of the Old Board and Appointed Two More.

CHAIRMAN GETS $1,800 YEAR

Topeka, Kan., April 7.—The new Kansas film censorship board is made up entirely of women. In the personnel of the new board Governor Capper has retained but one member of the old board, Miss Carrie Simpson of Paola, and added two new members. They are Mrs. J. W. Miller of Council Grove, and Mrs. E. L. Short of Kansas City, Kas. Of the 100 requests for appointments less than a dozen were from men.

According to gossip in Topeka, the administration of the board is to be anything but smooth if the censorship follows the line of the old board.

The new censorship law, besides raising the salary of the chairman to $1,800 and the other two members to $1,500, permits the film companies to make appeals to the courts instead of the old appeal board composed of the governor, the attorney general, and the secretary of state.

The Band of Workers of the First Presbyterian church will serve a penny supper Tuesday evening April 10th. Supper served at 5 o'clock. 2212.

Shall We Go It Alone Or Join the Democracy of Europe In Fighting Germany?

Shall we send an over-seas army to join the Entente Allies? Is it best for our Navy to cooperate in destroying German submarines? Will unlimited financial assistance to the Allies prove most effective? Or, shall we wage war with Germany independently of her other antagonists?

On these questions editorial opinion throughout the United States is sharply, tho far from evenly, divided, most of our press seeing in the European war a conflict of principles, a struggle between absolutism and democracy, declaring that the United States should cast its lot with the Allies on the firing line of democracy. The "go-it-alone" side of the argument is concisely stated by the Leavenworth Times: "This is an affair of our own with Germany. To be sure, the fact that Germany is having trouble with us probably will be of material assistance to the Entente Allies, but in their fight with Germany we still are neutral."

The leading article in THE LITERARY DIGEST for this week (the issue dated April 7th) presents the consensus of editorial opinion throughout the country on the steps that should be taken in the present situation. All view-points are given.

Other timely articles on the war, and other subjects of world-interest, in this number of THE DIGEST are:

Perspective the Only Key to Perfect Understanding

There is an old proverb to the effect that the onlooker sees most of the game. The player's conception of it as a whole, that is as removed from his individual effort or experience, is bound to be blurred and clouded by the dust and noise of the struggle. The observer notes the movements of all the players, grasps the massed combinations, and surveys the ebb and flow of the contest with cool understanding. The reader of THE LITERARY DIGEST has the benefit of such observation. He has summarized for him weekly an impartial review of what is being thought, said, and done on all sides of the great questions that are absorbing the interest of the world, and he gets the inestimable advantage of perspective. THE DIGEST takes no sides, keeps out of the struggle of politics, social disputes, trade rivalries and the rest, and records all view-points. Begin reading it at once if you really wish to understand the great game of life as it is being played to-day.

Breaking Down The Barrier!

UNTIL now, the car of superlative smoothness in performance, elegance, style, and richness in finish has been the exclusive privilege of the very rich.

With the coming of the new Oldsmobile, Model 45, the man of average means has access to the same pride of ownership, the same consciousness of utmost enjoyment, that formerly was attainable only by the possessors of great fortunes.

In the Model 45, he is enabled to boast a car that in point of smoothness, ability in performance, style, and refinement of finish is the peer of the world's most luxurious motor cars.

The car is built in four body styles at prices astonishingly low.—$1367 for the seven-passenger, and $1295 for the five-passenger, club roadster and convertible roadster models, f. o. b. Lansing.

The seven-passenger is now on display at our showroom. Call or write today for a demonstration.

Serum Station....

The Swine Breeders Pure Serum Company of Thorntown, Indiana, has established a Serum Station at Rushville for the benefit of their stockholders and also the farmers of this part of the State who want to use a high class serum.

We sell direct to the farmer and guarantee him the best, pure, potent serum and virus that can be obtained anywhere. This serum is strictly trout blood serum, obtained by killing the hog outright and this is the only plant in the country using this method.

The company has arranged to keep serum on hand at Kramer's Cold Storage Plant, and anyone wanting serum can get it any time. We are prepared to answer calls for vaccination at all times and have an office with the Nipp Insurance Company over the Rushville National Bank.

PICKS GIANTS AND WHITE SOX

Baseball Writer Predicts That These Two Teams Will Fight it Out Next Fall.

DOPE MAY NOT HOLD

Rowland Has Harder Row Than McGraw But he Has Material and May Pull Through.

BY H. C. HAMILTON.
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

New York, April 7.—Unless all dope fails; unless fate kicks a hole in arithmetic; unless something just as bad happens, the world's series next fall should be a lurid, inter-cine struggle between the Chicago White Sox and the New York Giants. The fight will be on next Wednesday.

Bringing it down to a final, gnarl's-fur calculation it must be admitted that, in spite of the record of the Boston Braves, Yale football team, Dave Fultz, and that other David, the grand old dope usually sticks out all over the result in the long run. It is the arithmetical solution of a problem that stands up for all time. The young man who attempts to pick 'em backward usually falls down on the job.

Hence it is the intention to record the reasons why the New York Giants and the Chicago White Sox should fight it out for the long and short ends of a baseball service next fall.

Some one said not so long ago that temperament is due to break or make the Giants: It was pointed out that, with Benny Kauff, Heinie Zimmerman, Davey Robertson, Charley Herzog and one or two others, a first-class opera troupe in thinkings could be conscripted out of the Giants' ranks. It was declared that it all depended upon how the baseballs lined up and how the hair was rubbed.

That may be true. Certain it is that no one ever had the good fortune to get along with Heinie Zimmerman for very long. However, John McGraw has been subduing dispositions for a long time, and his successes with Benny Kauff in ironing the kinks out of that young man will bear more than passing scrutiny.

The Giants will line up with Holke on first base, Herzog at second, Fletcher at shortstop, and Zimmerman at third. In the outfield will be George Burns, Benny Kauff and Robertson. Behind the plate McGraw has arrayed Raridon, McCarthy and Gibson. Pitchers will be Schupp, Tesheau, Sallee, Anderson, Porritt, Smith and others with reputations. Honus Lobert and a recruit or so will take care of utility duty, while Jim Thorpe and Red Murray both probably will be retained for outer garden extra work.

There's a lineup that presents one of the most startling rows of swatters ever gathered together under one management in the National league. McCarthy, Kauff, Halké, Robertson, Zimmerman, Fletcher, and Herzog are powerful swatters and of the consistent kind. To back this up, the National league's premier southpaw will inhabit the rubber pitching slab.

Temperament, viewed from this angle, will have little to do with it. It is difficult to see how such an array of talent could run into a slump depressing enough to take away the punch.

As for the White Sox—it's a longer road. Clarence Rowland has had his chance with virtually the same lineup that he started with this year, and no world's series has graced the Comiskey table since Rowland took charge.

Rowland has a great pitching staff provided he can get going. Red Faber should be ready for another fine season; Jim Scott is doing an effective comeback; Eddy Cicotta is due for lots of good days; Joe Bent hasn't been sick this winter and Red Russell is having luck with his left wing. Mel Wolfgang is a hearty heaver and Williams will help him out.

Rowland can line up Happy Felsch, Joe Jackson and John Collins, a slugging trio, as proof of outfield strength, with a strong

Degree Staff From Ivy Lodge Gives Amplified First Degree at Connersville After Work

IS GOING TO LIBERTY NEXT

Over fifty members of the local Knights of Pythias lodge went to Connersville last night where the degree team gave the amplified first degree, presenting the play "Damon and Pythias" at the Auditorium before a crowded house. The Rushville party made the trip to Connersville on a special car over the I. & C. traction line leaving here at seven o'clock.

The Rushville team did not confer the degree on any candidates but presented the play following the work in the lodge room. The audience was very appreciative. Following the presentation of the play the Connersville lodge served refreshments at the lodge room. The Rushville lodge will go to Liberty two weeks from last night to present the work for the lodge there.

RICHMOND BOY WINS CONTEST

Julius Peitz Will Represent District In State Discussion League Meeting at Bloomington

HANCOCK COUNTY SECOND

Thomas of Fortville First Declared Winner but Mistake in Ranking is Discovered

Julius Peitz of the Richmond high school won the Discussion League contest here last night and by virtue of the victory will represent the sixth congressional district in the state contest of the league at Bloomington.

Eugene Thomas of Fortville, representing Hancock county, was first declared winner through an error in taking off the scoring of the judges and most of the crowd left with the belief that the Fortville boy had won. However, the Richmond high school faculty coach, who was here with Peitz, when he saw the ranking of the judges, saw the mistake at once and the Wayne county representative was declared the winner. Thomas of Fortville was second.

The other speakers finished in the following order: James Briggs of Shelbyville, representing Shelby county, third; Bernie Epstein of Newcastle, representing Henry county, fourth; Miss Mildred Smith, Carthage, representing Rush county, fifth.

When the rank was first tabulated, it was found that Thomas, Peitz and Briggs all tied for first place and the other two speakers were also tied. A. L. Gary, one of the judges, then saw a mistake on his score sheet in marking the rank and made the change. In the meantime, Prof. Masters, believing the percentages would be necessary to determine the victor, was figuring them up. He went ahead and announced the decision based on percentage, which showed Thomas first and Peitz second, when in reality when the mistake in Mr. Gray's sheet had been rectified, the standing should have been determined by rank.

The other judges were Judge Will M. Sparks and John A. Titsworth.

The topic for discussion was: "Resolved that the United States should adopt a system of compulsory military training similar in essentials to the Swiss plan." The speakers had the privilege of choosing either side of the question. All took the affirmative except the Henry county representative. Each speaker was allowed eight minutes on the principal speech and three minutes rebuttal.

Briggs of Shelbyville, the first speaker, made three points in favor of the adoption of a compulsory military system as follows: first, that the United States is defying its own constitution by not adopting compulsory military training; second, the United States should adopt such a system because it would give greater protection at less expense; third, compulsory military training has always paid and will pay. He said that the private soldier in the United States cost five times as much as the Swiss private and that an army of sixteen million men could be raised under a system similar to the Swiss plan.

Epstein of Newcastle attempted to show that the Swiss plan was not adaptable to the needs of the United States. His chief point was that the Swiss train a soldier in three months, whereas that was not long enough time to train a soldier in this country. He pointed out that Switzerland needed compulsory military training because she is small and is surrounded by the most powerful nations of Europe. He declared the same need did not exist here. He asserted army officials had approved a plan for a regular army of 500,000 men and 500,000 reserves.

Miss Smith of Carthage pointed to the many advantages of the Swiss system and how it could be adapted to use in the United States. She declared that it trains men for defense but not aggression. Miss Smith then revealed the defects in our present regular army-volunteer plan, under which we have only 48,000 regulars.

Thomas of Fortville declared that the United States system of training was the best in the world.

since the formation of the republic. He pointed out that the revolution was won by the timely arrival of the French navy; that an army of 512,000 untrained men was humiliated by a trained force of 17,000 in the war of 1812 and that the rebellion could have been crushed if the government had had a trained army.

Some of the values of the Swiss system were, he said, that all the young men, by the army training, acquired good health and respect for their country. He declared that because of its vast population, the United States could make invasion practically impossible by the adoption of the compulsory military training.

The main point advanced by Peitz of Richmond was the distinction between compulsory military training and compulsory military service. He showed that the Swiss plan called for compulsory service only in time of war and compulsory training in time of peace to prepare for war. He said this was the difference between the Swiss and German systems. He cited that in 1872 and in the present war the German government went through another country than Switzerland to attack France because Switzerland was prepared. He also declared that the volunteer system in the United States was not democratic. The compulsory plan, he declared, recognizes the responsibility of every man to defend those things which are universally and equally enjoyed by all.

OFFERS MOTHERLESS BOYS

President of Club Gives Their Services to Country.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., April 7.—In a letter forwarded to President Wilson today, Mrs. Emma Ferguson Ellis of this city offered the services of the Motherless Boys of the Navy club to their country. The club was formed to "adopt" motherless sailors as sons, send loving letters to them and to encourage them in their work.

Branches of the club were formed in eastern cities and at the first national meeting, Mrs. Ellis was elected president. The club is now corresponding to about 300 boys in the navy.
